

Hornet Flight (Chinese Edition)

In June 1941, the British Royal Air Force suffered a great defeat over the North Sea. Nazi Germany seemed to have precognitive ability and is waiting for the British bombers to fall into the trap. The whole Europe was in Hitlers back pocket. On a remote island, 18-year-old teenager Harald accidentally broke into the German armys secret base, in the depth of which he found the secret of Nazis invincibility. In the meantime, the UK in despair was preparing to launch the largest-ever air attack -- if they were still unable to grasp the secret of the German army, the British Air Force would suffer a devastating blow. Harald must set out immediately and send the intelligence to London. However, this six hundred-mile flight was constantly under the Nazis surveillance. With only one piloting experience, Harald could only rely on a HORNET moth-type biplane which had been abandoned for years to fly away, reversing the fate of the UK and the whole Europe.
